Cauldron Energy reports visible gold at Blackwood

Cauldron Energy Ltd (ASX:CXU)'s Simon Youds says they've received an unexpected boost while preparing for ongoing underground drilling at the Blackwood gold project in Victoria with visible gold observed in an area formerly excavated for access purposes only. During clearance work in the Tyreconel Adit following a fall of ground caused by exceptionally wet conditions, Cauldron's team discovered a rise adjacent to the Annie Laurie stope that is believed to have been excavated in the 1990s purely as an access route.
